

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A person suffering from a high neurotransmitter pattern, as is characteristic with a patient diagnosed with ADD or ADHD, is treated by administering to the person an effective amount of: 5-hydroxytryptophan, L-theanine, and a neurotransmitter modulator selected from the group consisting of L-aurine and L-glutamine